“ Talisha and Mary, I hope you remember me. I am Anna Claire Allen's mom, Susan. Jan came to talk to a Sunday school class I was teaching at my invitation. I had been inspired by your mom's story about how she fought - and won - her right to attend the church of her choosing, First Presbyterian, when she was a teenager. The kids needed to hear how very important Jan felt it was to stick up for yourself when it came to something so very, very vital as worshipping as you choose. She was an inspiration.

“ Jan, you were one of a kind. I always joked about how when we bought the Cab company you and Mac came with it. You were a great help and you knew how to get it done! You stayed with us threw good times and slow times. We also shared a respect for each other and knew when our paths would have to travel in different directions. I missed you not being there as bad as you missed it. Your journey is over now and Ill see you in the clouds. Keep smiling!
